AGORA MAGAZINE

AGORA ONLINE

HTAV ONLINE FORUMS

In 2010 HTAV membership is moving ONLINE!

This innovative change reflects contemporary practices in the delivery of educational resources and, most importantly, reduces our environmental footprint.

In 2010 all HTAV membership publications will be published ONLINE. If you prefer, however, to read our journal, Agora, in the traditional way you can elect to receive an additional hard copy posted to you, for a nominal fee.

Benefits of 2010 HTAV membership include:

- 4 ONLINE issues of Agora (the Association's journal) in flip book form (please note that Agora is also available in hard copy – see form overleaf)
- 8 ONLINE issues of the Bulletin (the Association's newsletter)
- Access to ONLINE forums covering a variety of history topics
- Frequent member EMAILS which keep you up-to-date with the latest in history and teaching news (such as curriculum reform, new websites and resources)
- Access to the members-only area of the HTAV WEBSITE (including a searchable Agora archive as well as teaching and learning resources)

PLUS

- Discount rates to professional development programs
- Access to a range of resources developed specifically for the classroom
- Information on the national history conferences run by our parent body, the History Teachers' Association of Australia (HTAA)
- Representation - the HTAV has an established media profile and comments on educational issues
- With one of the largest networks of history and humanities teaching professionals, we give you access to a wealth of support
- Our staff and board members have a broad range of experiences in history and humanities education

The HTAV has a rich and vibrant history and offers one of the biggest support networks in the education profession. Sign-up at www.htav.asn.au
